Sen. Kuipers to read to area pupils during Reading Month

LANSING – Sen. Wayne Kuipers, R-Holland, will visit area schools during March, reading to pupils during the national reading month.

“Reading is one of the basics children must master to advance and succeed in life,” said Kuipers, who chairs the Senate Education Committee. “I’ve focused on education throughout my time in the Legislature, and again I’ll make March a month for promoting reading.”

The senator will read at the following schools Friday:

- Sandy Hill School in Jenison, a third-grade class, from 11 a.m. to noon.
- Forest Grove Elementary in Hudsonville, a fourth- and fifth-grade class, from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Please call the senator’s office if a photographer would like to attend. The senator also plans to visit other schools in the district at future dates.
